Abstract

This research aimed to determine the effect of brand image and price on the buying interest as well as the impact on the Teh Botol Sosro's purchasing decision at the Faculty of Economics, Yarsi University, and also to understand the brand image, price, buying interest, and Teh Botol Sosro's purchasing decision from the Islamic perspective. This research was an explanatory research. The research population was the students of Yarsi's Faculty of Economics, class of 2014. The samples were 75 students of Faculty of Economics, Yarsi University. Data collection used was a questionnaire . The sampling technique used a convenience sampling technique. The data analysis technique was a Path Analysis. The results showed that brand image had no significant effect but had an effect on the buying interest and purchasing decision. Price had a positive and significant effect on the buying interest and purchasing decision. Buying interest did not mediate the brand image and price to the purchase decision.

According to the Islamic perspective, brand image on the purchasing decision would occurred if the consumers had already had a clear information about the product and it did not contain any elements which were prohibited according to the teachings of Islam. The information must be absolutely clear or unambiguous.
