Title : Aspects of Legal Benefits of Academic Position in Composition of The Notary Supervisory Council in Indonesia

The purpose of this research is to analyze the role of academics in supervising the Notary Supervision Council in Indonesia and the legal benefits of the role of academics in the composition of the Notary Supervision Council. The formulation of the problem proposed is what is the role of academics in supervising the Notary Supervision Council in Indonesia and what are the legal benefits of the role of academics in the composition of the Notary Supervision Council. This research uses a normative juridical approach, data collection is carried out by literature study and data analysis is carried out qualitatively. The results of this research show that the role of academics in supervising the Notary Supervision Council in Indonesia is to provide a balanced view based on academic theories regarding the types of violations reported and the types of sanctions that will be imposed in accordance with the severity of the error or violation of the code of ethics committed by the reported notary. Academic views are conveyed to the plenary session of the Supervisory Council and jointly formulated regarding the types of violations committed and the legal sanctions imposed on the reported notary. Next, the trial will decide the case and the decision will be handed down as the decision of the Supervisory Board. The legal benefit of the role of academics in the composition of the Notary Supervisory Council is that it is significantly beneficial in carrying out supervision of notaries, in particular providing a balanced academic perspective in handling cases against notaries who commit violations. Apart from that, it provides benefits in the organizational development of the Notary Supervisory Council, especially in transforming the latest knowledge in the field of notary for the organization, organizational development through education and training as well as carrying out research and evaluation in order to improve the quality of the Notary Supervisory Council's performance.
