The Effectiveness of Implementing Good Government Governance in the Management of Village Fund Allocations (A Case Study in Situsari Village, Karangpawitan Subdistrict, Garut Regency)

132 + xiii pages, 11 tables, 10 pictures and 3 attachments

Abstract Description

This study aims to examine the effectiveness of applying Good Government Governance principles in the management of village fund allocations in Situsari Village, with a focus on the implementation of these principles as the key to sound village fund management. The research method used is a descriptive method with a qualitative approach, which involves systematically and accurately describing conditions, situations, and events in the field. Thus, the results of the study show that the application of the principles of Participation, Rule of Law, Transparency, Responsiveness, Consensus, Justice, Accountability, and Strategic Vision has an impact on village financial management, as detailed in the findings. Furthermore, from an Islamic perspective, these principles comply with Islamic law.

Keywords : Implementation of Good Government Governance, Allocation of Village Funds, Transparency.
